About the Role | Who are we looking for?

Due to our increasing success and growth and our commitment to ongoing product development we have created a new position for a Technical Project Manager within the development team. This person will report to the Product Development Manager.

The role requires someone with a broad background of project management with a focus on technical projects within a dynamic organisation. The role will involve working with the leadership of the product development and software development teams to ensure that all development projects are cadenced against agreed milestones and roadmap plans. The individual will be naturally disciplined and rigorous in their approach to planning, but also be able to adapt to changing demands. Coordination of information, planning and communication skills along with a proactive attitude are key success factors for this role.

- Manage projects with oversight throughout the entire project to ensure success as defined by the business leaders.
- Develop comprehensive project plans that merge customer requirements with company goals and coordinate with directors, managers and technical personnel during all project phases, from initial development through final implementation.
- Monitor project progress continuously and make detailed scheduled reports on measurable items, such as milestones and deliverables.
- Communicate proactively with all relevant team members to provide encouragement, identify any problems, create solutions, and implement improvements.
- The candidate should be comfortable working alone or as part of a small team, and there may be some limited travel involved to customer sites both in the UK and abroad. This will include assisting in tasks such as end-user training and sales and demo support.
